What Workmen Demand.

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Nov. 4.—Negotiations are proceeding between workmen and professional men of all classes to reach an agreement for joint political action.

The workmen demand the immediate calling of a national convention. Professional classes think such a course unnecessary.

Amnesty Provisions For Political Prisoners

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 4.—The ukase of the czar granting amnesty, which has been made public, proclaims that a free pardon is extended by the emperor to all political prisoners coming in certain categories enumerated in the decree, as well as to all participants in strikes, and persons held responsible for breaking contracts. The pardon extends not only to persons now in prison, but to those who have not yet been tried or sentenced.

From Prison to Siberia.

Persons convicted of crimes over ten years ago are to be released from prison and transferred as colonists to Siberia. Those who are now serving as colonists will be allowed, after four years, to choose their place of residence, but are prohibited from living in St. Petersburg or Moscow for three years.

The sentences of convicts not coming in these classes will be reduced one-half. If they are under life sentence their punishment will be reduced to fifteen years' imprisonment.

The pardon extends, as well, to persons who have benefited under previous manifestos. Persons arrested under imperial or administrative order are to be released and those condemned to death, or liable to such sentence, to have their punishment commuted to fifteen years' imprisonment at hard labor.

The manifesto covers all political offenses up to October 30, 1905, the day the constitution was proclaimed.

No More Censorship.

The press censorship, which has been exercised in Russia from time immemorial, will cease on Sunday, after which newspapers will be amenable to the criminal law for anything libelous appearing in print.

The government intends to make the libel laws stringent, and this will amount almost to a continuance of the censorship. This, together with the limited nature of the amnesty granted to political offenders, shows that the bureaucracy continues to be powerful.

More victories must be won before Russia will be free.

A prominent reform official, who is a close friend and collaborator of Count Witte, said:

"Count Witte has not yet come into any real power. He is being hampered at every step by reactionaries, to whom the czar continues to be indebted. Witte's back is a great mistake to believe that reaction in Russia is dead. It is much alive, and is growing strong again. The reactionaries are responsible for the disorders which are now proceeding everywhere in the provinces. They are trying to prove that the people are unable to govern themselves. If Count Witte had power in his hands he would put an immediate end to the rioting."

Death and Desolation In Homes of Hebrews

LONDON, Nov. 4.—Dispatches from St. Petersburg at noon today show that massacres of the Hebrews have taken place in over a dozen cities and towns throughout the czar's empire and that within the last twenty-four hours over a thousand of the Israelites have been killed and many thousands wounded.

According to one of the dispatches from St. Petersburg the attacks on the Hebrews in Russia are spreading.

One of today's dispatches to the foreign office at St. Petersburg reports the discovery of a plot to massacre the Hebrews in that city.

A dispatch to Lloyd's from its agent at Mariupol, Russia, dated November 3, says:

"This is the third day of rioting, the attacks being directed against the Hebrews. All work is at a standstill. The shops have been broken into and a number have been burned. Many persons have been killed and wounded during the disorders."

Reuters' Telegraph Agency received the following dispatch today from its correspondent at Kiev, Russia, under date of November 3:

Soldiers Run Amuck.

"The Hebrew quarter has been given over to plunder, rapine, and murder ever since the Emperor announced the granting of a constitution. On that day, during a monster demonstration in front of the town hall, a shot was suddenly heard. Cossacks and dragons immediately charged into the crowd, firing right and left, and the police and others dragged away the dead and wounded, numbering more than 120, into neighboring court yards, while the demonstrators, led, pursued by a mob of ruffians, who attacked them as they ran."

"At 11 o'clock in the evening an organized attack on the Hebrew quarter began, on the pretext that during the week a portrait of the Emperor had been insulted in the town hall. The lower quarter of the town, Podol, pillaged, and although the authorities promised a deputation protection, the pillage lasted all night long."

"Warehouses were looted and people robbed; incendiarism was indulged and many were killed."

"On Wednesday, Acting Governor Karas again promised prominent Hebrew merchants immediate strong measures would be taken for their protection, but the pillage assumed colossal proportions and the police and military stood absolutely impotent."

Hebrews at Kishinef Burned to Death

BUCHAREST, Roumania, Nov. 4.—Refugees who have arrived here from Kishinef, Russia, give a terrible account of the anti-Hebrew outrages which have been committed there. A large part of the town was burned and several streets were wholly destroyed. Shops were pillaged and Hebrews were dragged from their hiding places and thrown into the flames of the burning buildings.

The rioters bombarded the houses of Hebrews with guns taken from the soldiers, while the governor and other authorities remained out of sight. The railway station has fallen into the hands of the mob.

All of the government of Bessarabia, according to the refugees, is in revolt.

POWERS HAVE BIG STICK.

PARIS, Nov. 4.—The communications between the powers have reached a stage where a joint naval demonstration against Turkey is assured unless the Sultan accepts the plan for financial reform in Macedonia.

McLELLAN WHIRLS IN STUMP CYCLONE

Covers Half of New York in Four Hours.

PRESIDENT HITS AT IVINS

Present Mayoralty Candidate Opposed Roosevelt for Office and Is Now Refused Help.

McClellan's Flying Tour

Meetings addressed..... 11 Miles covered..... 35 Minutes spent in talking.... 60 Minutes devoted to cheering... 32 Time spent in automobile... 2h. Time spent finding bearings... 12m. Speeches up to date..... 64.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Repeating an appeal to Republicans as well as Democrats to preserve the fair name of the city by voting for the Democratic ticket, Mayor McClellan last night in Carnegie Hall, made his eleventh speech of the evening, and concluded the most picturesque and exciting tour of his whirlwind canvass.

Beginning with a meeting in the lower east side, he crossed the Brooklyn bridge in an automobile and for nearly two hours speeded through the streets of east New York, Brownsville and Williamsburg, much of the time in a driving rain. He addressed nine meetings in Brooklyn.

Throats Cheer Him.

He was greeted everywhere by rousing cheers and shouts of "Hurrah for Little Mac" and "Four years more!" Crowds surged about him when his automobile drew up before the various halls and ran after him yelling and cheering when he started away.

In each of his addresses there was the same personal appeal for the votes, not of partisans, but of citizens and men. He called upon his hearers to support him because "it is the duty of the people of New York to save the fair name and honor of the city."

City in Peril.

In one of his speeches he declared that the name and honor of the city are at stake; that another he asserted that the city is in danger of being "trampled in the dust."

President Roosevelt has had to withstand great pressure brought to bear upon him by Republicans and independents who are working for Ivins, and who are still seeking to induce him to come to the aid of the Republican city ticket.

This pressure was particularly strong this week on the return of the President from his Southern trip. What took place is related in a circumstantial narrative.

Appeal to President.

A well-known friend of the President who is working for Jerome and Ivins visited the White House and laid the whole political situation in New York before Mr. Roosevelt.

"Mr. President," said this caller, "you will thus see that if McClellan is elected Tammany will be so strongly entrenched in power that the State is 'keyed' to go Democratic next year. If Roosevelt should elect the policies of the United States will feel the effects of it for years to come."

"If you were to write a letter or send Mr. Root to New York to make a speech on behalf of the Administration for Ivins the drive of Republicans for Ivins and McClellan would be stopped and Ivins might be elected mayor."

"I should like to do it," said the President, "but I do not think it is a good thing for the Administration to interfere in a municipal election."

"But do you not think it would be good citizenship to aid the election of Ivins?"

"Mr. Ivins is a bright man," said the President. Then he burst out laughing. "You go back to New York and ask Mr. Ivins how much assistance he gave me when I was running for mayor under almost exactly similar conditions in 1895."

"What? Do you mean to say Ivins worked against you in 1895?"

"Well, I think if he did Mr. Ivins he will admit that he did. As a matter of fact, he went around with Mr. Hewitt, the Democratic candidate, rendered him every assistance in his power, and that assistance was not to be despised, and I think you will find out if you look over Mayor Hewitt's appointments that Mr. Ivins had his reward as they ran."

That ended the conference, and no statement about the effort to get the President to help the Republican city ticket was made from the White House.

The election of District Attorney Jerome to the office of Mayor, also a contribution to him has fallen flat. Last night at the big Tammany meeting at Carnegie Hall, the mention of Jerome's name upset the meeting.

KNIGHT TO BE CITIZEN.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Sir Capstan Purdon Clarke, the new director of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, has arrived in this city on the steamship Codrington. He declares that he will become a citizen of the United States.

FOOD DOES IT.

Curious How Right Food Rebuilds Body. The benefits of the good, red blood made by Grape-Nuts food is described in a letter from Chicago:

"I was for years badly afflicted with hemorrhoids caused by constipation, which was the result of impure blood supplied by food not adapted to the needs of the body under certain conditions. My trouble extended to rectal hemorrhoids, which finally reduced my strength. Surgical operation gave me no relief and I was compelled finally to quit business."

Luckily, just when things were looking the blackest, some one recommended Grape-Nuts food as a desirable article of diet, and I began (Dec. 1, 1903) its use, and in a few months brought my health back to me."

The action of my bowels is free and regular now, and this has brought relief from the hemorrhoids. At the same time a nervous trouble which had been growing on me and which the doctors could never do anything with, has also disappeared. All this return to health I am free to say I owe to Grape-Nuts food."

MARSHAL AFTER RENT FOR HALLS OF ANCIENTS

Tenant Willing to Pay, But Owing to Complications Does Not Know Who Is Proper Landlord.

The 3,000 years of peaceful slumber of an Egyptian prince, who gave up the ghost 1,000 years before the dawn of Christianity, was rudely broken yesterday at the Halls of the Ancients by the United States marshal, who informed the royal sleeper he must pay his room rent or find some other place to rest his stony head.

The mummy said not a word, but with a glassy stare and without a quiver of an eyelash, which seemed plainly to say do your worst, mortal, the relic of the dead dynasty of Egypt relapsed into calm everlasting sleep.

Was Star Attraction.

The dead Egyptian king, by the way, has for a long time been the star attraction at the Hall of the Ancients and would probably have remained in peaceful quiet forever so many years if the owners of the great show house did not need the rent. It was for the purpose of collecting some of the stuff which it is said by some, is the root of all evil, that a deputy United States marshal visited the place.

The rent was not forthcoming and the officer of the law under an order of the District Supreme Court took possession of the building, but also its contents.

The building is occupied by Dr. Franklin Webster Smith, who is ready and willing to pay the rent, but on account of pending litigation concerning the property, does not know who to pay it. It is said, however, he will immediately take steps to have the rent properly received for and continue the possession of the property, his lease for which has still three years to run.

Owned by Syndicate.

The property was attached at the instance of the receivers of a Maryland syndicate, which owns the land upon which the building of the Hall of the Ancients is erected.

The property is also subject to a trust for $50,000. If this is not paid by November 16, the building will be sold at public auction.

Open Free Tomorrow.

Washington will be treated with a new entertainment tomorrow when the Halls of the Ancients, 1312 New York avenue northwest, will be opened to the general public free of charge. In the opinion of the originator of these halls, Franklin W. Smith, the people of this city have not generally accepted the opportunity to view at short range just how the ancients lived, and that much instruction is to be had from a visit to the homes of the ancient Romans, Egyptians, and Assyrians, which he has produced in his Halls of the Ancients.

Mr. Smith will give a number of illustrative talks from the rostrum of the Roman court, which is reproduced in the Halls of the Ancients, and will also outline his plans for the formation of the National Society for the Aggrandizement of Washington.

The Halls of the Ancients contain faithful reproductions of the palaces of the Caesars on the Palatine Hill, Rome, and the interiors of a number of ancient Roman houses, the ruined porticoes of the Egyptian temples, and a section of Biblical archeology, etc., all of which have been collected by Mr. Smith in years of travel and research in the Old World.

AXLE BROKE IN SMASH.

A team of horses attached to a dirt wagon in charge of Frank Stark, eighteen years old, of 1218 Bank street northwest, collided on H street, between First and Second streets, with a buggy driven by Augustus Burgdorf of 2009 Seventh street northwest, yesterday afternoon, and broke an axle of the buggy.

While John Klever, of the Washington Barracks, was riding through Seaton Park on his bicycle last night about 8 o'clock, he collided with a driver, and was thrown heavily to the ground. Klever received a severe scalp wound, which was dressed at the Emergency Hospital.

How to Cure Rheumatism

I searched the whole earth for a specific for Rheumatism—something that I or any physician could feel safe in prescribing—something that we could count on not only occasionally, but with reasonable certainty. For the ravages of Rheumatism are everywhere and genuine relief is rare.

After twenty years of search and experiment, I learned of the German chemist I now employ, and I knew then that my search and my efforts were well rewarded. For this chemical, in combination with others, gave me the basis of a remedy which in the cure of Rheumatism is practically certain. In many, many tests and difficult cases this prescription has with regularity justified the confidence I had in it.

I don't mean that Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Tablets can turn bony joints into flesh again and never fall—that is impossible on not only occasional, but with reasonable certainty. For the ravages of Rheumatism are everywhere and genuine relief is rare.

Any Rheumatic sufferer who writes me may receive my book on Rheumatism, including professional advice as to diet, etc., free. With the book will also send without charge, a "Health Token," an intended passport to good health. Address Dr. Shoop, Box 4766, Racine, Wis.
